A roundtable discussion with Dr Hume and the Garifuna Sistas, sharing information on diverse spiritual spaces, indigenous spiritual connections and the true meanings of voodoo spirituality.

Dr. Yanique Hume is Head of Department of Cultural Studies at the University of the West Indies, Cave Hill Campus in Barbados. She specializes in the sacred arts of the Black Atlantic, religious and performance cultures of the African Diaspora, Afro-Caribbean Spiritualities.

Kyleigh Simone Cayetano is pursuing her B.A in Entertainment and Cultural Enterprise Management at UWI, Mona. Her major piqued her interest in learning more about her heritage, and the idea of creating a podcast about Garifuna spirituality felt like the perfect project.

StephAnn 'Feroza' Cayetano teaches English in Spain. Her Garifuna heritage has been her anchor while living in several countries. It is, however, challenging to learn about one's cultural traditions when living abroad, and little of this knowledge is accessible on the Internet. These sisters created the podcast to gain a deeper understanding and educate their audience.
